Feeling the squeeze?

As 'the credit crunch' officially becomes 'the recession' your business may be looking for ways to reduce overheads. For many businesses, the first consideration will be redundancies.

Recognising that this is an area that employers often find confusing and difficult to manage, Archers Law has put together redundancy packages which could help guide your business through the difficult process of letting staff go.

Our packages always include an appointment with a qualified specialist, the documents and letters you need to guide you through the process, and advice by telephone or email if you need additional support or if issues arise that you hadn't anticipated.

The packages vary in price according to the number of redundancies your business needs to make, as the process becomes more complicated when greater numbers are proposed and basic packages start from just £350 plus VAT.

Client feedback...

'Extremely efficient way of doing things'

'Immediate and effective response'

'Integral part of our team'

'Excellent employment advice in difficult times'

Making changes

We can redraft an outdated contract and provide you with the letters and advice needed to implement the new contract in the workplace. In addition, we can provide you with an employment handbook, complete with a set of policies and procedures to help you manage HR within your business.

For a limited period we are offering the contract, letters and advice and handbook as a complete package for just £500 plus VAT.

To keep you abreast of changes to the law, Archers Law also offer an updating service whereby we will automatically update your policies and contracts to reflect any changes. This ensures your business remains compliant at all times and minimises the risk of Employment Tribunal claims.

This service also includes a bi-annual newsletter and invitations to our employment law update seminars throughout the year.

Legal support

Perhaps you would prefer the reassurance of having HR and legal support day to day?

Archers Law has a team of employment law specialists who can assist with any issues that arise, including disciplinary matters, grievances, and sickness problems, together with guidance on maternity and family friendly policies. We can offer support and advice by telephone, email or with face to face meetings either at our offices or by coming to see you on site.

If you would like to discuss any of the packages we have on offer, would like us to carry out a free audit of your contracts, policies and procedures or would simply like to discuss the services we offer, call us to set up a free no obligation initial meeting.
